Workers' Compensation

What is Workers' Compensation?

Workers' Compensation is an employer-paid benefit program that provides medical benefits if you are injured or become ill due to a work/volunteer related circumstance. In addition, if you are unable to work and lost wages, your employer provides continued salary or compensation to help replace lost wages until you are able to return to work.

What does the benefit cover?

Any injury or illness is covered if it is caused by your job/volunteer service. This includes serious injuries as well as first aid injuries. Under Workers' Compensation law, you will receive help if you are injured, no matter who was at fault. Some injuries (e.g., most off-duty recreational activities) may not be covered through the workers' compensation program. CSU's third party claims administrator, Sedwick CMS, will determine eligibility for benefits.

If I am injured/ill, and want to file a Workers' Compensation Claim, What do I do?

Immediately report the job-related injury or illness to your supervisor. He or she will give you a Report of Accident/Incident/Illness to complete on which you will describe your injury and how, when and where it occurred. Return the completed form to your supervisor or campus claims coordinator (Amanda Dodd, 1000 E. Victoria Street, Carson, CA 90747, 310-243-2373). The campus claims coordinator will have you complete an Official Claim Form and will give you a completed and signed copy and send the remainder to Sedgwick CMS. Someone from Sedgwick will get in touch with you to interview you and explain the benefits you will be receiving if the claim is accepted.

Your supervisor or campus claims coordinator will also arrange for authorized medical treatment and complete the necessary reports. You must furnish your supervisor or Claims Coordinator with a doctor's written work status report prior to resuming your duties. Insure your right to benefits by immediately reporting every work-related incident, injury or illness. Any delay in reporting may delay or bar your workers' compensation benefits.

Further, you may not be able to receive benefits if you don't file a claim within one year of the date of injury, the date you knew the injury was work-related or the date when benefits were last provided. To be sure you retain your benefit rights, report every injury immediately and request a claim form for any injury other than in a first aid circumstance.
